Teachers who love teaching, teach children to love learning

"Every day I am reminded why I do this job and working with children is a privilege. Although I have settled into teaching Y3 & Y4 over the last 6 years, I have enjoyed experience of teaching all the primary age groups in my career. I am currently Assistant Headteacher and Maths Lead at East Brent where I am lucky to work with an inspirational team. I am passionate about mastery maths so much so that I developed and embedded a mastery programme across my school which last year saw 31% of our children achieving GD. My strong belief is that ALL children should enjoy maths and have the opportunity to develop qualities nurtured by Maths in problem solving, reasoning and critical thinking so that all achieve their full potential, developing life-long skills. As well as teaching children, I am also passionate about working with student teachers, NQTs and RQTs".
